

Internship Opportunity: Construction Leadership Mentorship

We are seeking a motivated intern interested in gaining comprehensive construction experience with a concrete subcontractor. This internship will cover essential aspects of the construction industry, including estimating, project management, and superintendent tasks, with the potential to dive into the business side of construction—including marketing, financing, and managing cash flow within a construction business.

Who We Are:

Melton Construction Group is a concrete subcontractor located in Englewood that operates throughout the Denver Metro. We are currently a small subcontractor with a big vision for the future and are actively taking steps to break into new markets.

What We're Looking For:

- Willingness to learn with a passion for the construction industry
- A motivated visionary capable of seeing the potential in incomplete projects
- Someone who takes initiative and has strong creative problem-solving skills

This is not your typical "get your feet wet" internship. Instead, it's a hands-on internship designed to foster real-world skills and leadership ability. You'll have the opportunity for autonomy and ownership over your work, as we believe this approach cultivates the best learning environment.

What You'll Gain:

- Oversight, direction, and feedback from experienced professionals
- Confidence to make key decisions that impact projects
- Mentorship to own your path to become a competent construction leader

Additional Information:

- Pay: $15-20
- Flexible (20-40 hours/week), depending on availability
- Location: Onsite, office is in Englewood, CO, job sites are in and around the Denver Metro

Join us to accelerate your career in construction and develop leadership skills in a supportive, challenging environment. Send Resume and Cover Letter to bridgette@meltonconstructiongroup.com