

Work Experience Summer Job – AMLI Development (Denver, CO)

$25/hr | 32 hrs/week | 12-week Work Experience opportunity

Housing Discount Available

Denver, CO | May – August 2026

Are you a construction management student looking for real-world experience on a large-scale, luxury apartment project? AMLI Development is seeking a Summer Construction Intern (for work experience hours only) to join our team and gain hands-on exposure to project administration, subcontractor supervision, and on-site construction management. This is an excellent opportunity to work alongside experienced professionals, develop critical industry skills, and contribute to a high-profile multifamily development.

What You'll Do:

- ◆ On-Site Supervision & Coordination – Assist in overseeing daily subcontractor activities, ensuring safety protocols are met, and tracking job progress.
- ◆ Project Documentation – Use Procore to log daily workforce activities, document weather conditions, track inspections, and update safety notifications.
- ◆ Safety & Compliance – Help administer subcontractor safety orientations, maintain hot work permits, and promote a positive safety culture on-site.
- ◆ Material Coordination – Verify materials received for compliance, assist with deliveries, and ensure proper inventory tracking.
- ◆ Project Planning & Communication – Participate in subcontractor meetings, scheduling discussions, and daily planning sessions with the project team.
- ◆ Technical Skill Development – Work with construction documents, review contracts, assist in drafting RFIs (Request for Information), and contribute to problem-solving in real-time project challenges.

What We're Looking For:

- ✓ Current student pursuing a degree in Construction Management (or related field)
- ✓ Strong organizational and problem-solving abilities
- ✓ Basic understanding of construction plans, contracts, and schedules
- ✓ Familiarity with Microsoft Excel, Microsoft Project, Bluebeam, and Procore (preferred)
- ✓ Excellent communication and teamwork skills
- ✓ Ability to work on-site in an active construction environment and adapt to varying weather conditions

Why AMLI?

AMLI Development is a national leader in multifamily construction, developing and managing luxury apartment communities in 8 major U.S. markets. Unlike many developers, we build exclusively for ourselves, ensuring quality craftsmanship and long-term investment in our projects. AMLI is consistently ranked among the top 20 developers/builders in the multifamily sector and has been recognized as the #1 sustainable apartment builder in the industry.

We offer a collaborative, engaging work environment where interns gain valuable field experience, interact with seasoned professionals, and build the skills necessary for a successful career in construction management.
