

TRANSFORMING THE WAY THE WORLD WORKS

Land Survey/Construction Test Engineer Intern, Summer 2021

US - CO, Westminster

Start Date: May 2021- Summer Internship

Trimble is an exciting, entrepreneurial company, with a history of growth coupled with a disciplined and strategic focus on being the best. While GPS is at our core, we have grown beyond this technology to embrace other sophisticated technologies and solutions, in doing so; we are changing the way the world works.

The Building Construction Test Intern will follow a test script and perform real life application testing of measurement systems. They will fill in and report specific quantitative test results. They will communicate qualitative test results back to engineering groups through written and oral reports and follow up test scenarios in subsequent software versions ensuring issues and concerns are continuously being addressed and improved upon.

Candidate Requirements

- Pursuing a degree in Construction, Land Surveying or Geomatics Engineering
- Surveying experience strongly preferred
- Strong computer skills, test design, Excel, data base, networking, and experience with spatial databases (preferred)
- Experience with office/field survey workflows is preferred but not required
